

Connie Ludwin, Senior Director
Taft Communications

The boundless skills and energy she tapped to create an award-winning model for the first statewide collaboration of Boys & Girls Clubs in the country, Connie now puts behind Taft's clients in both the nonprofit and private sectors. She manages multiple key accounts including the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, Horizon Foundation for New Jersey and PSEG and serves as co-interim director for the Council of New Jersey Grantmakers, along with her colleague Jon Shure.

Her track record forging relationships with celebrities, athletes, political leaders, and corporate executives bring out Connie instinctive public relations skills. Her 25-year career in the social sector culminated with Connie serving as CEO of The Boys & Girls Clubs in New Jersey. Connie is a member of the board of the Center for Non-profits in New Jersey, marketing chair for the Center for Spiritual Living Morristown, and a Lead New Jersey fellow. Born into an Air Force family, Connie counts Paris, Tokyo and Selma, Alabama among her childhood homes. The constant moving helped to hone Connie's easy ability to move in all our client circles. She has a bachelor's degree in recreation administration from Kean University and certificates in nonprofit management from Columbia University and Seton Hall University.
