

Jon Shure
Senior Director, Taft Communications, LLC

Jon Shure has spent his career communicating about policy and public affairs as a journalist, in state government, and in the nonprofit arena. He was a reporter for The Record newspaper of Bergen County, and was Communications Director for Governor Jim Florio before founding and for 12 years running New Jersey Policy Perspective, a state research organization based in Trenton. He spent seven years in Washington, D.C. with the Center on Budget and Policy Priorities, where he helped coordinate the State Priorities Partnership network of 42 state research and advocacy organizations.

Shure taught in the political science department at Rutgers University and was a Visiting Fellow at the Eagleton Institute of Politics. The Syracuse, New York native has a Bachelor's degree from Cornell University in Industrial & Labor Relations and a Masters in Journalism from the University of Missouri.
