

Jun Choi
Chair of the Board of Trustees, New Jersey Policy Perspective

Jun Choi is CEO of Menlo Realty Ventures, a real estate investment firm focused on converting brownfield sites to clean, modern industrial use. He has held leadership roles in government and business. Before entering real estate, he served as Mayor of New Jersey’s fifth largest municipality, Edison Township, where he led a good government movement to stabilize the city’s finances, create jobs, improve public safety, protect the environment and build a stronger sense of community. Edison received several honors under his watch including the “Best Place to Raise Kids” in NJ according to BusinessWeek magazine. Previously, Choi worked on education policy as Executive Director of a statewide task force to improve NJ’s student achievement performance metrics and at the US Office of Management and Budget. He began his career as a management consultant advising companies on strategy and technology.

Choi is Chair of the Board of Trustees of NJ Policy Perspective and also serves on the Board of the Regional Plan Association. He earned his B.S. in Engineering from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and M.P.A. from Columbia University.