

Suzanne D. Brown, Esq.

Director Strategic Initiatives
New Jersey Pandemic Relief Fund

An attorney by training Suzanne started her career at the law firm Willkie Farr & Gallagher in NYC. However, her passion for helping others led her to the non-profit sector where she has spent the majority of her career including being President of Table to Table, a food rescue non-profit in Northern New Jersey.

When the pandemic hit in March 2020, Suzanne raised her hand to volunteer with the newly formed New Jersey Pandemic Relief Fund and immediately began helping distribute grants to 430 non-profits. In July, she joined NJPRF as a full-time employee where she oversees strategic initiatives, communications, marketing, PR and fundraising. To date the Fund has raised a record $64 million and awarded $40 million in aid to those most impacted by Covid-19.

Additionally, Suzanne has spent decades volunteering in her community. She is particularly passionate about mentoring others and helped found a mentoring program for alumni of her alma mater, Cornell Law School.

Suzanne is passionate about fitness and during the pandemic has become a Peloton groupie. When not working or spinning, Suzanne can be found at home in Millburn where she lives with her husband, three children and two dogs.