United Way of Northern New Jersey has created the ALICE Recovery Fund (#ALICErecovery), a crisis recovery fund that will address emerging needs of ALICE® (Asset Limited, Income Constrained, Employed) households and those in poverty in response to the spread of COVID-19. The state of emergency created by the spread of the coronavirus is exposing critical shortcomings in our economy, health care system, and public education. No one is immune to its direct or indirect effects, but ALICE families are particularly vulnerable to hardship from both illness and economic disruption. These households struggled to afford the basics even before COVID-19 hit. Across the five-county northern New Jersey region (Morris, Somerset, Sussex, and Warren counties as well as portions of suburban Essex County), 30 percent of households are ALICE and in poverty and United Way expects more will become ALICE as this crisis persists.
