Some guidance on registration:

- On the program page, you also have the ability to add the program to your calendar program (iCalendar, Outlook, Google or Yahoo), but note that adding to your calendar alone, does not register you for the program. CNJG will also send an email reminder to you a day before the program.
• If you attempt to register again for the same workshop, the site will notify you that you have already registered for the program:

• Registration instructions are also located on the right side of the screen to guide you through the process, or you can contact Anna D’Elia, CNJG’s Manager of Programs and Learning Office Manager, at (609) 414-7110 x803 for assistance.
